Tutoring Experience

With 3 years of tutoring experience, I've worked closely with students preparing for IB, IGCSE, and A-Level exams. My approach is focused on helping students build a solid understanding of key mathematical concepts, which leads to long-term success in their academic pursuits.

I've also helped students prepare for university-level entrance exams like the SAT and AP Calculus, guiding them through challenging topics such as algebra, calculus, and statistics. My students have consistently shown improvement and achieved higher results across various international curriculums.
